

pacific view |

Emily Brochin | represented by Peter Dealbert

Emily Brochin is a television writer most interested in exploring heightened worlds and genre. She recently wrote on the staff of Project Blue Book for History Channel. Additionally, Brochin is developing her pulpy, female-led revenge pilot entitled Prey for Riley Keough's Felix Culpa. Prior, Brochin wrote on the staff of The Outsiders for WGN. She began her career working as writer's assistant for showrunner Peter Mattei. Brochin's original pilot entitled The Gatekeepers won the prestigious Humanitas Award for Best Drama.

A Connecticut native, Brochin earned a B.A. in Comparative Literature from Brown University and an M.F.A. in screenwriting from University of Southern California.

Television

Project Blue Book

Story Editor
Staff Writer

History Channel/Robert Zemeckis

Outsiders

Staff Writer
Writer's Assistant

WGN/Fedora/Peter Tolan

Prey

Executive Producer
Writer (Pilot)

Riley Keough/Felix Culpa

Awards

Gatekeepers

Writer (Pilot)

Humanitas Award